Serenade to Music

Lorenzo

How sweet the moonlight sleeps upon this bank!
Here will we sit and let the sounds of music
Creep in our ears:
 soft stillness and the night
Become the touches of sweet harmony.
Look how the floor of heaven
Is thick inlaid with patines of bright gold:
There's not the smallest orb that thou behold'st
But in his motion like an angel sings,
Still quiring to the young-eyed cherubins;
Such harmony is in immortal souls;
But whilst this muddy vesture of decay
Doth grossly close it in, we cannot hear it.
Come, ho! and wake Diana with a hymn!
With sweetest touches pierce your mistress' ear,
And draw her home with music.

Jessica

I am never merry when I hear sweet music.

Lorenzo

The reason is, your spirits are attentive:
The man that hath no music in himself,
Nor is not mov'd with concord of sweet sounds,
Is fit for treasons, stratagems and spoils;
The motions of his spirit are dull as night,
And his affections dark as Erebus:
Let no such man be trusted.
 Music! hark!

Nerissa

It is your music of the house.

Portia

Methinks it sounds much sweeter than by day.

Nerissa

Silence bestows that virtue on it

Portia

How many things by season season'd are
To their right praise and true perfection!
Peace, ho! The moon sleeps with Endymion
And would not be awak'd.
[Soft stillness and the night
Become the touches of sweet harmony.]
